Many Fur Trimmed Modes Are Included

It is our desire to always have such a comprehensive assemblage of coats as to include every mode that bespeaks of present-day fashions. Many patrons have been dazzled by the greatness of our stocks and the willingness of our salespeople to show every style that you might express a liking for. As for materials, there's styles in Normandy, Veldyne, Handyne, etc., and the usual HUDSON LOWER PRICES prevail. Our prices buy coats that regularly sell for $30, $37.50, $42.50 and $50.

Others Up to $250

Equally as Great an Array of

No HUDSON showing of garments is ever allowed to descend from the complete class, for that would not be in keeping with our policy of greater stocks. This is particularly true of our dress array. Our direct connections with the fashion centers brings to our stores the latest word in dress creationsdesigned from such materials as Canton Crepe, Beaded Georgette, Crepe de Chine, etc.

Hampden Shows Wonderful Ability

Walter Hampden presented Charles Rann Kennedy's, "The Servant in The House" at the Shubert-Garrick last night with the following cast: THE CAST.

James Ponsonby Makeshyffe, D. D. the Most Reverend, the Lord Bishop of Lan-cashire Hannam Clark The Reverend William Smythe, Vicar, William Sauter

To every thinkable attribute that one could look for in the role of Manson as the servant in the house, Hampden claims undisputed ownership. As a symbol of The Nazarene, a role that the greatest might contemplate with trepidation, he is noble. His creation of the part has allowed, with lapse of time, a nurturing of its possibilities to the uttermost rim which is, inversely, a penalizing achieveis, inversely, a penalizing achieve-ment, for not all of his supporting cast can scale the level. This, though, is negligible comparison, for Hampden in Manson and Manson is Hampden in every utterance, every footfall. Im-aginings of the Macbeth of Monday night or the Hamlets of other nights were blocked by the presence of Manson on this night.

Ernest Rowan, as the drain layer and medium for the preachments of Manson, comes to legitimate reward in a demanding character. Mabei

Moore is an acceptable niece.

A larger and proportionately appreciative audience was present last evening. Tonight Mr. Hampden and players will offer "The Taming of the

W. F. BUCKLEY, AMERICAN IS EXPELLED FROM MEXICO

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 30.—William F. Buckley, president of the American Association of Mexico, crossed the border yesterday, having been ex-pelled from Mexico City.

Mr. Buckley, who traveled to the border on a "safe conduct," obtained through American Charge Summerlin in Mexico City, said he had been ex-pelled on complaint of the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, who advised him, through Mr. Summerlin, "to keave the country for his own safety." He said he quit Mexico City only after a second demand had been made on him.

BERGDOLL SUES U. S. FOR RETURN OF HUGE SUM

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the escaped slacker, yesterday filed suit in the District Supreme Court against Thomas W. Miller, alien property cus-todian, and Frank White, Treasurer of the United States, for the return of property valued at $750,000, seized under the trading with the enemy act.

Mrs. Emms C. Bergdoll, of Philadelphia, filed the suit for her son. The suit set forth that Bergdoll is but temporarily located in Germany, and that he will eventually return
